R&D Management Conference 2021

17 September 2021
ATLAS Design Offices München

We ensure the protection of our participants and speakers with the following measures:
(as of June 2021)

- The room size of the event location was selected in such a way that even with a capacity of up to 80 participants, compliance with the legally required minimum distance of 1.5 m can be ensured.
→ more than 80 people will not be admitted to the R&D Management Conference.
- All individuals attending the conference will be registered (last name, first name, city of residence, phone number or email address) to allow contact tracing in the event of a subsequently identified COVID-19 case among attendees.
- Prerequisite for access to the conference is official verification of one of the following:
 - completed vaccination
 - recovery
 - negative test result (PCR test or rapid antigen test not older than 48 hours).
- On site, we also offer the possibility for a quick test to be carried out by qualified personnel (for everyone who cannot provide any of the above-mentioned proofs or for all those who would also like to be tested voluntarily).
- Indoors, it is mandatory to wear an FFP2 mask or a medical mouth/nose protection. When sitting at fixed seats with a minimum distance of 1.5m, the mask requirement may be waived.
- Sufficient washing facilities, liquid soap and, if necessary, hand disinfectant (as an accompanying measure) are provided.

The planning for our R&D Management Conference 2021 is under continuous observation with regard to further developments around the COVID 19 pandemic.

We continuously adapt our event concept on this basis so that the conference meets all the necessary hygiene and safety measures at the time of the event to ensure maximum protection of your health.
