

Development of a simulation-based Systems Engineering awareness training for an aircraft manufacturer

- Basic Awareness Training of Systems Engineering Philosophy, Thinking, Processes Methods & Tools supported by a simulation case.
- The participants of the training run through the whole development phase in a simulated project environment
- The participants get to know different perspectives/ roles during the project simulation (engineering, procurement, production, sub-suppliers)